Cutting-edge safety technologies, for state-of-the-art vehicles.

The functional safety aspects in car manufacturing are numerous, especially when novel concepts in automotive automation are involved. We help you leverage the best of two worlds – automotive manufacturing and technology – to the benefit of your always demanding customers.

We understand how to:
• Collect data from mid-range and long-range radar sensors, ultrasonic and laser sensors, classic and infrared cameras, LIDAR – with the highest degree security levels available
• Analyze and deliver accurate information, using the latest trends in AI and machine learning
• Effortlessly connect software and systems, to create best-in-class automation, driving functionality and convenience

Smart Buildings

Home Automation.

Unlike any other home. Your smart home.

You might know everything about home automation already, or you may be a novice at it. Regardless. We've got your back when it comes to reaching the maximum potential of your automated home.

Automation for any, and all homes.

Have you already picked your favorite devices, plan on upgrading or are you just starting?

Write down the list and we'll be able to work with you or the tech team of your preference to ensure:
• all networks compatibility and streamlined communication (Wi-Fi, Z-Wave, Zigbee, Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE), X10, Insteon, Thread, and Universal Powerline Bus (UPB)
• countless connected devices
• expansion freedom (add new technologies and devices-on-the go)
• professional support for full performance and minimum downtime (existing and new home automation systems)

Smart Buildings

Residential Automation.

Homes and people, in sync. Intelligent automation for residential projects.

While some cater to smaller dwelling concepts, we allow you to go beyond the surface of sensors, networks, and applications. We help you discover what makes people truly feel at home, in any building.

Automation solutions for welcoming neighborhoods.

Professionals in the real-estate sector are looking into the future of IoT and buildings. If you are one of them, then you'll enjoy:

• the ability to work with communication technology, from any brand (Wi-Fi, Z-Wave, Zigbee, Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE), X10, Insteon, Thread, and Universal Powerline Bus (UPB))

• a flexible solution, shaped by and for the customer

• scalability for future networks integrations (wired or non-wired)

• professional support every step of the way

Smart Buildings

Commercial Automation.

Interweaved buildings and IoT, for smarter communities that evolve.

Rethink your commercial property investments by embedding tailored automation solutions. We'll make sure you're getting incredible energy efficiency, environmentally friendly structures, and maximized financial output.
